Treatments and Pricing

An Initial assessment is required prior for all new clients.

Initial assessment	£40
Intensive plan	£135
Maintenance plan	£170
Pay as you go	£20
Add-on to groom	£17
Brush head replacement. (replaced after approx 20 sessions or sooner if damaged from dog chewing)	£7.50

Does it hurt?

No. The ultrasound technology is completely pain free. There is no noise or vibration from the brush. The toothbrush just needs to be held against the tooth for a short period of time, so no brushing or scrubbing is necessary

How quickly will i see a difference?

There is no definitive answer to this as it depends on the initial condition of the teeth. We will advise the best course of treatment for your dog in relation to their level of plaque/tartar build up on their teeth.

What if my dog doesn't like it?

We will never force a dog to have a treatment, some dogs may take a few sessions to accept the brush, some will just not allow something to be placed on their teeth or gums. In some cases, we may decide to not continue with the treatment. If this does happen, any payments already made for future treatments would be refunded.

My dog doesn't have any tartar. Is it worth my dog having the treatment?

Yes. Prevention is always better than cure. The system kills bacteria in the dogs mouth, which is the main cause of gum problems and plaque build up. By having regular sessions alongside your dogs regular groom you can help to prevent the tartar from attaching to the teeth and keeping them clean and healthy.
